

INTRODUCING KATHIE M. THOMAS

Author of “Worth More Than Rubies:
The Value of a Work At Home Mum”

Women today crave to return home to care for their families and use their skills to contribute to the household income
– *but what a description to live up to!

Kathie M. Thomas pioneered the Virtual Assistant Industry in Australia and is a Virtual Assistant, Coach, Author and Speaker. She recently published her book “Worth More Than Rubies: The Value of a Work At Home Mum” which is a study on the Proverbs 31 Woman, coupled with life experience.

“Worth More Than Rubies” is an awe-inspiring name tag to live up to yet few women realise this is what the work at home businesswoman and mum is worth to her family. For those who do realise the full significance and want this lifestyle, most are frustrated this way of life eludes them.

Kathie Thomas shares how she brought up 5 daughters, and established a new industry, with skills she’d developed in the corporate world for over 20 years. She is passionate about women coming home to work and caring for their families, returning to old-fashioned values and using today’s skills.

If the following are things are of concern to your members, then book Kathie for your next event:

- Need income but don’t need the corporate hours and travel
- Need to be home for family more
- Have good skills but don’t know if they can be used at home
- Concerned about the costs of childcare and the welfare of your children

What do people say about Kathie?

“Having read some of the literature you kindly forwarded me, I have finally twigged that you were the speaker that has launched me into 'I want my own business' action since the breakfast. Thank you - I found you to be most insightful and inspiring, leaving me with the courage and eagerness to leap and bounce high on the springboard of success. Look out world - here comes the soon-to-be independently financial new me! The goal is set; the action of achieving it has just begun.” ~ Rachael Perks

“Worth More Than Rubies is a great starting place for moms who desire to work from home. Packed full of practical, useful information as well as the story of Kathie’s own journey, I know this book will bless many, many women.” ~ Jill Hart, CWAHM.com.

If you’re looking for a passionate and motivating speaker for the women in your organisation, why not book Kathie for an event in 2008? Her contact details are below or visit her website.

Worth More Than Rubies: The Value of a Work At Home Mum, (Published September 2007 ISBN: 9-780980-362374 $19.95) is available at www.worth-more-than-rubies.com

CONTACT: Kathie M. Thomas, 613-9585-5780
PO Box 2918, Cheltenham, Victoria, Australia, 3192
kathie@vadirectory.net www.kathiethomas.com

Member:
National Speakers Association of Australia
International Association of Coaches